Everyone deserves the taste of success

Issue 3

Friday 22nd September 2017

The children have made an excellent start to filling their sticker albums. I have had a steady stream of children from all year groups coming to see me to be rewarded for how well they have demonstrated one of our school values of respect, courtesy, determination, friendship, compassion and equality. Such is the standard of behaviour demonstrated by the children of Sandgate Primary that I don't expect it to be long before the first child completes a whole page. This week we have been learning about Elizabeth Fry and how she demonstrated compassion; next week our value will be courtesy.

Mr James has been sending us regular updates about his maths work in Shanghai. He has met with Beifan and Zheng the two teachers who will be coming to visit Sandgate Primary in January as part of the mathematics exchange programme and they are both very excited about their visit to our school.

Further travel details to follow nearer the time. Letters have been sent home this week or can be viewed on the school website.

Can we please remind parents and carers for your own safety to use the designated crossing area at all times. Could you also remember not to park on the zig zag areas outside the school and adhere to the speed limit along Coolinge Lane.

Thank you
