Well done to all those children who demonstrated our school values to such a high standard this week that they were entered into the Gold Book. The awards were live streamed from each classroom so that the children were all able to be together – albeit virtually – as we celebrate achievements within the school community. Each week we are testing new technology and approaches, allowing us to overcome many of the challenges we faced earlier in the year.

We recently sent out a survey requesting information about the devices that children have access to at home; if you haven't yet completed this please would you be able to do so. It is only a small survey but is of huge importance as we are using the information to ensure that all pupils are able to engage in home learning, which we are distributing via Google Classroom, and virtual lessons should they need to work from home.

This morning was particularly wet and windy; thank you to one kindly parent for the loan of the umbrella after mine failed miserably in the challenging conditions! It is not a pleasant experience queuing in the rain, but we do need to keep to our staggered entry and exit times as they have been put in place as part of our risk assessment with the aim of keeping everyone as safe as we can.

Sticking to your child's allocated time rather than arriving early will allow you to avoid a wait; if you have more than one child in the school then you are able to arrive at the latest drop-off time and pick up at the earliest.

I hope you all have an enjoyable weekend whatever the weather.

Best wishes

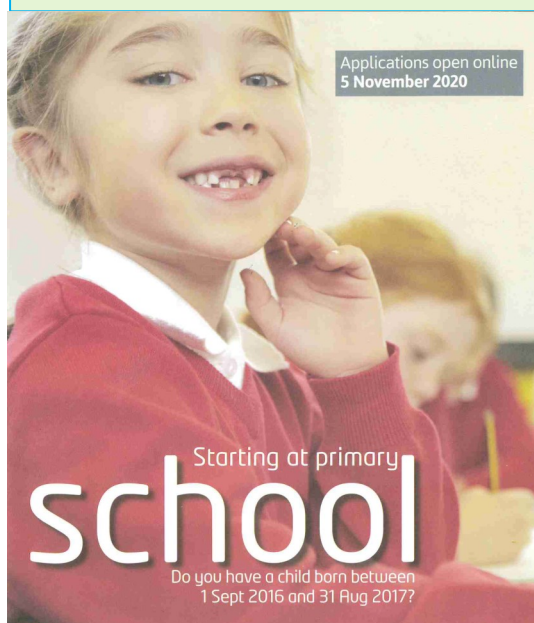

Matthew Green
