

Dear Butterflies and Bumblebees,

This week on Google Classroom, you will find a reading and handwriting activity. We can't wait to see the learning in your home school diary!

Week beginning 7th December 2020

Dear Parents,

This week, Christmas has continued in Foundation! Our class elves have been busy surprising us each morning and we have enjoyed reading the Christmas stories that they sent us. In Literacy, we have been writing letters to Father Christmas and we have been discussing Christmas around the world. We have also talked about the Jewish celebration of Hanukkah. In Maths, we have continued subtracting two single digit numbers and we have been practising how to form our numbers as well.

Well done to the children who had their Flu immunisations for being so brave. If your child missed out for any reason, this can be rebooked via the following details. (The nursing team will be revisiting our school again in January).

In Phonics this week, we have all been consolidating what we have already learnt. This has included both the Phase 2 and Phase 3 tricky words that we have learnt so far. You will find a copy of these words, which are learnt by sight, in your child's book bag.

Please can you all try and use Google Classroom for the home learning as this will be the way we set learning and interact with the children if either of the bubbles need to isolate. Thank you to those that already do and we hope you enjoy the activities (we appreciate the feedback you give us).
