Governors' Corner

This week the governors have once again been focusing on the wellbeing of all staff within the school in order to ensure that those who look after the wellbeing of all our pupils are themselves looked after in different ways. The governors value the contribution made by each and every member of staff in making Sandgate the school that it is; a Staff Wellbeing policy and named wellbeing governors supports us in this endeavour. There has also been a focus on the teaching of history with a governor link visit taking place to ensure, amongst other things, that the history curriculum is being appropriately followed and that the planning and sequencing of work makes learning clear and that pupils are able to build on their knowledge of historical events and to demonstrate this. The quality of education being provided was evidenced in different ways, including being able to look at pupils' books across different years to see first hand the different aspects of history being studied and the key knowledge being acquired. Governors are grateful to various members of school staff for making this link visit as effective as possible and to the pupils for all the efforts they've clearly been making!
