	 That some of the earliest forms of communication relied on symbols and drawings to tell stories and pass messages, specifically hieroglyphics in Ancient Egypt and cave drawings in Stone Age Britain. That historians make judgments about the amount, nature or pace of change across time, specifically in relation to communication. That the history of communication started with people sharing spoken messages and that this has developed over time.
	That Samuel Morse developed telegrams and Morse Code which revolutionised long-distance communication and allowed complex messages to be sent in code.
	That the telephone was first officially developed by Alexander Graham Bell almost 200 years ago and allowed people to communicate across long-distances.
	 That the World Wide Web was developed by Tim Berners-Lee and changed communication forever by introducing instant messaging services such as emails.
	 To compare aspects of communication in different periods.
RSHE	Health and Well-being
	 That a physically healthy lifestyle involves daily exercise, a balanced diet, good hygiene, drinking water and getting enough sleep. That medicines (including vaccinations and those that support allergic reactions) can help people stay healthy. That a mentally healthy lifestyle involves talking about our feelings and emotions, spending time doing things we enjoy, playing outside, spending time with family and friends, resting and relaxing, and getting enough sleep. That it is important to take a break from TV, tablets, games consoles and the internet. That their choices and decisions will have good and not so good consequences and that
	 That their clotes and decisions win have good and for so good consequences and that they must consider these before making a real informed choice. That everyone has different likes and dislikes and to identify some of their own. Some simple strategies for managing feelings, including sadness, anger and loneliness. That it is important to ask for help with feelings and how to ask for it. About fire safety: that they must never play with fire or matches; that if their clothes were to catch fire they should stop, drop and roll; that if there was a fire they should stay low on the floor; that they must 'get out and stay out'; that they must never hide during a fire. About road safety: that they should hold an adults hand when crossing the road and they should stop, look and listen before crossing; that they should cross at pelican or zebra crossings whenever possible; that they should never cross if there is something obstructing their view of the road. About online safety: why it is important to keep passwords and personal information private when online; how to report a concern; that sometimes people may behave differently online, including by pretending to be someone they are not. About sun safety: that they need to wear sun cream and to cover up with appropriate clothing and hats to protect their skin from the sun damage. How to respond safely to adults they do not know. That they share a responsibility for keeping themselves and others safe and that if they feel unsafe or worried for themselves or others, they should always talk to a trusted adult SRE That there are some physical differences between males and females, such as their external genitalia and know the names for the main parts of the body, including using the names penis and vulva for external genitalia. (SRE lessons 2 & 3)

	 To decompose a game to predict the algorithms used to create it.
	That programmers remove of unnecessary detail to help debug an algorithm.
	To debug a navigational algorithm. That grapters must plan their project before beginning to make it (revised)
	 That creators must plan their project before beginning to make it (revised) To plan an algorithm to solve a simple navigational problem.
	 Why it is important to keep passwords and personal information private when online.
	 To know a user would consider the consequences of differing levels of security
	 How to report a concern and ask permission before posting.
Art	Mini-beast papier-mâché sculptures
	That a sculpture is a 3D (three dimensional) piece of art that can stand on its own, or be put on a wall or hung from the ceiling.
	• That three-dimensional means something isn't flat – they have width, height and depth.

Medium Term Plan Year 2 – Term 3 – 2023/2024

ARYSON
	 That sculptures can be made to look like something but can also be made up. That observational art is when you make art to mimic what you observe (see). That you can then abstract from this to make up something new, like Benavidez. To form an opinion of whether they prefer observational or abstract sculptures and their reasons for choosing. That artists can make art from their mind but can also copy from references (real things or photos of real things). That artists often begin using observational art of a real object, then make further sketches to abstract from it and make something new. That sculptures can be made from a lot of different materials. That papier-mâché is made using a mixture of plain flour and warm water, and involves coating an object using small pieces at a time. To abstract from a reference to make your own creation. That papier-mâché must be done in layers and left to dry for the best result.
	To see the value in creating art of something new and made up.
	To collaborate with others to create art that uses real-life space for display.
Primary Languages – Spanish	Animals (los animales) Vocabulary: How to say 10 animals in Spanish:
	 A horse (un caballo) A rat (un ratón) A pig (un cerdo) A lion (un león) A rabbit (un conejo) A bird (un pájaro) A sheep (una oveja) A cow (una vaca) A monkey (un mono) A duck (un pato) That listening and speaking are key skills when learning a new language and enable us to communicate with people around the globe. That many words are similar to French and English because of their Latin origin (etymology) an we can use these cognates to help us understand new vocabulary (un león)
	Grammar:
	 That nouns in Spanish have different determiners based on their gender. For masculine nouns, the indefinite article 'un' is used and for feminine nouns, 'una' is used. That other languages follow different rules than our own and it is important to understand these in order to effectively communicate.
	Phonics:
	 How to accurately pronounce J (in oveja, pájaro & conejo) and LL (caballo). That for words that end in a vowel or 'n' and 's' it is normally the second to last syllable that is stressed (co-ne-jo and ca-na-rio).
	 That accents can only be written over vowels in Spanish and indicate the vowel is stressed – regardless of the other rules (le-ón, pá-ja-ro and ra-tón).
