Safeguarding Snapshot Top Tips for Parents

Each week we will send home a snapshot of safeguarding information to help keep your child safe.

UK Cyberbullying Statistics for 2024

- One in five children between the age of 10 and 15 in England and Wales experienced at least one form of cyberbullying.
- Asian or Asian British children were the least likely to experience cyberbullying, while White children were the most likely.
- Name-calling, swearing, and insults were the most common type of cyberbullying experienced by children in England and Wales.
- An estimated one in four children did not report the online bullying experienced.
- Over half, or 52% of the children who experienced cyberbullying, said they would not describe their experience as bullying.
- Up to 70% of children who experienced cyberbullying said that the perpetrator(s) were people from their school.
- 58% of them said they were very satisfied with how their school was handling online bullying.
- Up to 57% of young people aged 12–25 had experienced bullying behaviour when playing video games online.
- 22% of the survey respondents said they stopped playing an online game as a result of the abuse.

If your child won a trophy for the Achievement Awards last year, please could these now be returned to the School Office.
Thank you to those of you who have already returned these.

The Bumblebees have received a very exciting letter!

The 7 SUPERPOWERS of smartphone-free kids

- 01. More time
Based on UK kids' average usage, they could get over 35 hours a week back to use in the real world.
- 02. More freedom
More space to grow into themselves – without pressure from likes, trends, or group chats.
- 03. Real social skills
They build confidence and vital skills by talking, listening, and laughing together – face to face.
- 04. Better mental health
Less time scrolling means less anxiety, fewer comparisons, and more joy in the everyday.
- 05. Digital resilience
They learn to use tech intentionally – creating, thinking, questioning, not just scrolling endlessly.
- 06. Focused learning
Without constant distractions kids can focus, think clearly and get in the zone – in and out of school.
- 07. Proper sleep
No late-night scrolling means deeper rest, brighter moods, and a brain ready for tomorrow.

Join hundreds of thousands of families delaying smartphones and social media – together.
